State Historical Society.

In the experience of all independent or local communities, there is an essential element without which progress would be retarded, and even the height of prosperity to which they may attain be unappreciated and consequently unenjoyed, viz.: the power of facile retrospection. As with individuals, so with communities, States and nations; were there no recorded histories — written or typified memories—of the past, by which comparisons with the ever-present could be instituted; did we take no note of time and its unceasing changes; had we no stand-point whence to mark our onward or retrogressive course in national or individual existence, we should fail of accomplishing the destiny of the characters we represent. The blessings of liberty—of conscience, action and government—are most keenly appreciated by those who command adequate knowledge of history, and who are thus able to comprehend the times and conditions under which these blessings were denied their fellow-men. Did we not realize, by a knowledge of the palpable changes around us, that we were progressing, improving, and prospering, the greatest incentive to action would be lost, and retrogression mark the spirit of our age. Had we not some written evidence of an advance in civilization, with dates and current incidents, to transmit to posterity, we should be derelict in our duty to them and ourselves.

The State of Oregon, although a double decade has rolled into fast increasing obscurity their memories since her hardy and venturesome pioneers cut the rough timber for their primitive abodes, has taken no step to secure a legitimate record of those thrilling times and scenes—precursors of her present prosperity. The trail of the gallant Lewis and Clarke, exploring trappers in an unknown and danger-fraught wilderness, were to day nearly obscured but for the enthusiasm awakened by romance rather than by the sturdier monuments of a truthful historian age. The courage and sufferings, the trepidations and deeds of hopeless daring which checkered the career of the first settlers of our soil, are known and remembered even now by but few, and those few are rapidly leaving their post-horses upon the shore of time, and soon they will all be in the "bourne" whence telegrams do not come. The Indian tribes and their poetic traditions are finding a common grave, and prompt, active and intelligent research only will preserve to our children a knowledge of the earlier condition of their native land. It is high time our people were moving in this matter. We commend it to the serious consideration of our legislators elect, with the hope that at the next session of their august body, it may receive the attention it deserves, and authentic measures be adopted for the formation of a State Historical Society, and the employment of suitable persons to collect and prepare such matter as relates to the province of a historian. Eleven years ago, some two or three gentlemen, then late residents of the more highly civilized East, sought the formation of such a society, but it was by some regarded as premature, and they failed. Prematurity may no longer be pleaded; the example of nearly every State in the Union is in favor of such an institution, and we should not leave to the chance of private enterprise what public spirit can better and at less comparative cost accomplish.

APPLICATION FOR REQUISITION DENIED.—The late Grand Jury of Multnomah County having found a true bill against three certain parties named Bush and an Indian known as Sam, charging them with the murder of Denison, who was wounded at the Cascades, in Washington Territory, and subsequently died in this city, affidavit was made that the accused parties were not within the jurisdiction of the State Courts, and an application was presented in accordance with a statute interpreted as authorizing the same, for a requisition upon the Governor of Washington Territory, for the persons so charged and now held at Vancouver, Washington Territory, that they might be brought here to answer. The application was returned with the following endorsement upon it:

> "It does not appear that the shooting was done in this State, or that the persons charged have fled from this State. Therefore the written application is denied. "ADDISON C. GIBBS,
> "Governor of Oregon."

THE FREEDMAN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—The people have made up their minds at San Francisco to raise $100,000 for this worthy and charitable object. Some of the best men of that city are at the head of this good movement.

Salutes were fired at San Francisco, Sacramento and Placerville in honor of the nominations of the National Union Convention.

Financial.

The leading solution of the present condition of the money market at the East seems to be the following:

Why is gold bullion and coin bought and sold at a price, for currency, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent. premium?

Because the amount of paper currency thrown into circulation, has caused an inflation of prices for all commodities, of about 100 per cent. above what they were worth before. The paper being the measure or standard of value, its quantity at any given time being increased or diminished most necessarily, under the laws of supply and demand, control prices of all property.

Why are such quantities of gold and silver coin and bullion bought at these high rates in New York and sent to Europe?

It is done to pay for the enormous excess now going on between imports and exports. Formerly our exports of all kinds, paid for all the goods we brought from Europe, or so nearly did so, that balances were easily settled without the necessity of shipping large amounts of specie in payment. Owing to the rebellion, our foreign trade is most unfavorably changed. We sell less, because we manufacture and produce less than before. We buy more from abroad, owing to the extravagance of people suddenly grown rich in pursuits stimulated by supplying the necessities of the Government.

In the meantime, the exigencies of the Government demand money for the public service in enormous sums, which has to be raised by credit, the debts assuming the form of bonds or legal tender notes, and the great problem taxing the talent of the Government, is how to pay the interest promptly and so regulate the currency as to have the least necessary amount in circulation. The interest is paid in gold received from duties and for interest bearing bonds. Bonds are used, in converting or absorbing legal tender notes.

Recently, while gold was advancing so rapidly in price in New York, the Government adopted a plan for checking the advance and for restoring in some degree a higher relative rate to paper: this was to sell a large amount of gold on hand and not needed there for interest payments. This was authorized by law and done. The legitimate effect of the measure and its policy, are matters of dispute among financiers, and the discussion is still going on. It is certain that the demand for gold then existing was fully supplied, and the price receded for a time. But whether this was the best mode of checking the evil, is denied by those who insist upon a reduction of the amount of paper money as the only remedy. Undoubtedly Mr. Chase is acting in the light of the best views of the most able men, in the unexampled position he holds, and due weight to the consideration just mentioned, we see that he has since asked for permission to issue $75,000,000 of bonds, redeemable in 1881, drawing six per cent. interest, with which he proposes to retire that amount of legal tender notes.

ANDREW JACKSON'S HOME IN SECESSIONISTS' HANDS.—A Tennessee correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says:

I visited the "Hermitage" to-day in company with Captain Armstrong, Surgeon Grating, and a squad of colored troops. Everything about the place looks lonesome, and bears the marks of neglect and decay. But the saddest fact is this—the old hero's home is inhabited by Secessionists. I saw Washington's chair, the General's fine portrait, by Healy, and his grave, but I have no wish to speak of them while avowed Secessionists live in the house. A thick shadow has fallen on the "Hermitage," and the whole neighborhood seems to be under a curse.

Andrew Johnson was born in Raleigh, N. C., in 1808; lost his father at four years of age, at 10 was apprenticed to a tailor, and at 17 he set up for himself in that business. He learned the alphabet on the tailor's board, and diligently employed his evenings after his work was done, in learning to read. To write and cipher he learned after marriage from his wife—in this respect repeating the experience of many enterprising Southern youths unblessed with the advantages that wealthy parentage confer. Under the tutelage his of wife he made the most rapid improvement.

The appointment of the venerable and distinguished Bishop of Albany to the archbiepiscopate of New York but confirmed the general expectation in regard to the succession of Archbishop Hughes. The new Archbishop was born in Brooklyn in 1807, he became coadjutor of New York in 1844, and in 1847 was transferred to Albany as its first bishop, and is now, at the age of 57, Archbishop of New York, embracing that State, New England and New Jersey.

WHERE THE GOLD AND SILVER GOES.—A Parliamentary return of the gold and silver imported into and exported from each Presidency of India, states that in the year 1863 the gold and silver imported exceeded the exports by no less than $96,836,820. In the last eight years this excess of import over export in India has reached the enormous value of $548,260,585. Bullion has been coined in India during the last sixty years to an amount considerably exceeding $1,000,000,000.

The Times thus neatly contrasts the first "memorable saying" on record of General Grant with his last:

> At the opening of Gen. Grant's military career at Fort Donelson, he sent a proposition to Gen. Buckner, who had requested a cessation of hostilities after two days' fighting, in these words: "I propose to move immediately upon your works." We have had but few other propositions from him until now, when he makes another, after six days' fighting: "I propose," says he, "to fight it out on this line, if it takes all summer." Both of these proposals are very cool, but terribly determined.

ANTICIPATED EFFECT OF THE CAPTURE OF RICHMOND.—If Lee retires to Richmond, Grant looks upon the capture of the entire rebel capital as only a question of time; and this result is doubtless so apparent to Lee, that it is doubted whether he will submit to a siege; It is thought he will prefer to exhaust himself in efforts to avoid the necessity of going to Richmond at all. But if he does not go there, the chances are that Butler will; or, that while the latter is holding Beauregard at Petersburg, and Grant is holding Lee, the independent column moving around Lee's left flank will take the rebel capital with little difficulty. Unless, therefore, Lee's strategy shall prove quite inscrutable and stronger than his force Richmond is sure to fall.

Leading rebel journals, in nerving the people up for the great struggle now pending, have acknowledged recently that the loss of Richmond would be the loss of the cause. This would seem to be literally so. Eastern Virginia, truly, is nearly exhausted; but it is not entirely destitute of resources, and it is the door to the rich valley and southwestern portion of the State, which still abound in the necessaries of life, indispensable to the maintenance of an army, and every day becoming more so, as our forces advance in the West, and thus contract the area in which the rebel hosts must find their food or starve. Eastern Virginia also contains many thousand negroes who cannot be carried along in their flight, and who will still further replenish the Union armies if needed. Besides, hope is very low in the breasts of the enemy and must give place to utter despair when they find their Capital gone, and no means of staying Grant's purposes at hand.

Only on Friday last the Richmond journals expressed their fears for the safety of the city. The Whig seemed to see already the black clouds settling down upon the rebel cause. Hear its confession thus:

"The people of the Confederacy have made up their minds unwisely, that the war must end one way or the other, this year, forgetting quite that there can be but one way. If Lee should fail, and his army is unsuccessful, we greatly fear that the majority of the people would begin to look the other way. But neither the loss of Lee, nor the reverse of his army, nor the two together, will justify the contemplation of that other way."

Is not the foregoing extract a clear admission on the part of an intelligent and competent though unwilling witness, that if Gen. Grant captures Richmond and destroys the army of Lee, the people of the Confederacy will despair of success, and will sue for peace on any attainable terms. The effect, too, will be to poison copperheadism to death at home, and lead all Europe to turn their backs upon the Southern cause. This latter result is comparatively of little importance, except as it may lead to the withdrawal of European concession of belligerent rights to the rebels, and react upon rebeldom itself, still further dispelling their hope and sealing their despair.—Washington Correspondent of the S. F. Bulletin.

A new "wrinkle" in the gas business is an attachment of a small marine-clock to street lamps, whereby the gas is turned off at precisely the moment desired. An arrangement of this kind has been applied to the lamps in Springfield, N. J., and so far it works to a charm and only needs to light the lamps to be perfect.

A remarkable mirage of Lake Ontario was observed in the village of Pulaski, recently. The lake seemed to approach within forty rods of the centre of the village, giving it the appearance of a seaport town, the conformation of the land assisting in causing it to appear perfectly natural.

The pointed leaves of the pine are used in Prussia as a substitute for cotton. They are boiled in various ingredients, and, being steeped in chloride of lime, become of a wooly texture, resembling wadding. The substance thus produced, mixed with wool, is manufactured into blankets. It is stated to be impervious to the attacks of insects of all kinds.

THE BATTLE OF THE WILDERNESS.—A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Todd's Tavern, Va., May 8th, said:

"The details of the wonderful three day's battle of the Wilderness, which closed last night just as the blood-red sun went down behind the margin of the Rapidan, will have given you some idea of the labyrinth of action through which its course ran, and the maze of tactics out of which it was evolved; but the battle of the Wilderness must remain, for the present, undescribed, for the reason that it is really undescribable. I remember a pregnant observation of Gen. Rosecrans—that with us war is only "bushwhacking on a large scale." Now, if this is true of the kind of ground on which many of our battles have been fought, the analogy holds still more forcibly in the wild, tangled pine woods in whose thicket, and along whose margins the prodigious Indian fight of Thursday, Friday and Saturday raged. No man can claim that he saw this battle: and although undoubtedly it had a line and formation of its own, it would puzzle even the commanding General to lay it down on the map. There is something horrible and yet fascinating in the mystery shrouding this strangest of battles ever fought—a battle which no man could see, and whose progress could only be followed by the ear. It is, beyond a doubt, the first time in the history of war, that two great armies have met, each with at least two hundred and fifty pieces of artillery, and yet placed in such circumstances as to make this vast enginery totally useless. Not a score of pieces were called into play in the whole affair, and I may mention it as a fact strikingly illustrative of this battle, that out of the three thousand wounded in the hospitals of Hancock's command alone, not one of the wounds is a shell wound. In like manner our cavalry has been totally useless, as cavalry. In all their engagements the men have been compelled to dismount and fight on foot, and the horse, except for locomotion, has been a hinderance rather than a help. In such circumstances, in the utter impossibility of manœuvering or effecting any grand combination, the difficulty of generalship is enormously increased. It will also be inferred from the circumstances in which the battle of the Wilderness was fought, that it was quite impossible for it to be decisive in its results. The combat lasted three days, but it might have been prolonged a fortnight longer and still have left the issue undecided. Now that it is ended by the withdrawal of the enemy, though we are hardly justified in calling the result a victory in the positive sense of the word, yet if it be considered that the enemy was signally foiled in the purpose with which he sought battle in the Wilderness, that he was compelled to fall back, discomfited, and that we are in vigorous pursuit, under circumstances that gives us the shorter line of advance on Richmond, even the most cautious and skeptical will admit the gross and scope of the action to be a most substantial advantage to our arms."

THE HICKORY STRIPE.—Andrew Johnson in his place in the Senate, while his colleagues, from the Southern States, were leaving that body, one by one, stood up for the old Government. "Sir," said he, "if the doctrine of secession is to be carried out upon a mere whim of a State, this Government is at an end. I am as much opposed to a strong, or what may be called by some a consolidated Government, as it is possible for a man to be; but while I am greatly opposed to that, I want a Government strong enough to preserve its own existence; that will not fall to pieces by its own weight or whenever a little dissatisfaction takes place in one of its members. It the States have a right to secede at will or pleasure, for real or imaginary evils or oppressions, I repeat again, this Government is at an end; it is not stronger than a rope of sand; its own weight will tumble it to pieces, and it cannot exist."

A CARD.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY begs leave to announce to the public, and particularly to his patrons on the Pacific Coast, that he is about to close his business, with the view of retiring for the present from the arduous labors of his profession.

As it is his intention during the ensuing Fall to leave the United States, for the purpose of visiting Europe, he will not receive any new patients after the first day of July, 1864. Those, therefore who may desire his services will apply within a reasonable time. Dr Czapkay desires to assure those who are now under his care, that they will continue to receive all the attention which his obligations prescribe and their cases respectively demand. Those who hold contracts guaranteeing a cure are hereby requested to report to Dr. Czapkay before the first day of June, 1864, whether or not they are satisfied that a cure has been effected in their cases respectively. All who do not thus report within the time specified will be regarded and treated as cured.

In taking leave of his patients and the public, Dr. Czapkay desires to express his profound gratitude for the extraordinary patronage bestowed upon him, and the confidence reposed in his professional ability.

During his residence in California, Dr Czapkay has treated successfully upwards of twenty-five thousand patients, which is the best guarantee that his course of treatment has been rewarded with a success at once personally gratifying and almost unprecedented in the annals of medicine.

Any physician in good standing, who may desire to purchase the interest of Dr Czapkay in his "Institute," and the good will of his business, may make application an state proposals.

QUARTZ ATTRACTIONS.—The warm weathe yesterday, together with the new quartz a tractions from Santiam, on exhibition at Tra & King's cabinet, had a tendency to crea quite a feverish state of excitement on th usually quiet street corners of our city. Th tendency seemed to be upward with everythin susceptible of inflation, and the very clou appeared to rise high enough to pass over th Cascade range, and speed away to Owyhe with the intelligence. Sober people wer candid, and Lookiltems, was confused, at t ten thousand different specimens, from a quarters, offered for inspection. Half ma kind seemed to be on the hunt for gold—noth ing short of the glittering, yellow oro woul satisfy the longing. This mania, which no pervades society to an alarming extent, wi be the means of casting aside many a substan tial blessing, in anticipation of some shadow hope which never will, because it never ca be realized. We are all on a grand Chev Chase hunt for something, but we should a feel satisfied with a fair amount of game— some of us with less. Otherwise, aside fro disaster, the hunt is very likely to terminat unsuccessful, especially that for a golde prize; for, do not riches have wings?

THE INDIANS.—On one or two occasions w have referred to the nuisance of stragglin Indians who infest the city limits, and in th report of the Grand Jury published in yes terday's issue, Indian Superintendents an Agents are censured for permitting these I dians to roam at large. In justice to the Su perintendents and Agents of the Orego Superintendency, we will state that the Indi ans who are [illegible] in this vicinity, do not belong to any of their reservations, and the censur of the Grand Jury does not apply to them They have sh[illegible] a commendable zeal in col lecting the Indians belonging to Oregon reser vations, when applied to by the city authoritie The Superint[illegible] has requested that al Indians [illegible] the Oregon reservation found [illegible] limits be arrested, and the city [illegible] instructed to lodge all such [illegible] them until they can be re[illegible] reservations.

NUMBER 3's ENGINE HOUSE.—Arrangements were completed yesterday, and the contract let to Mr. E. M. Burton, for the construction of a new Engine House for Columbian Engine Company No. 3. The building is to be of brick, two stories high, and to cost, by the appropriation $6,000. The work will be commenced by the 15th of July, and the building completed by the last of October.

ACCOUNTED FOR.—The human remains discovered near the steamer landing in Vancouver, on Friday morning of last week, are supposed to have been the remains of a body deposited there very many years ago—perhaps an Indian—and were now exposed by having the earth washed away by the action of the water.

HONOLULU COMMISSION MERCHANTS.—Bolles & Co., Commission Merchants of Honolulu, whose card appears in to-day's issue, we are assured are an old and highly respectable firm. Ten years experience in the Islands, in active mercantile transactions, makes it an object with our exporters to consign to them.

PASSENGERS.—There were about seventy passengers arrived by the steamer from the Cascades last evening. After diligent inquiry with regard to the condition of their finances we ascertained they had all been able to make the connection through to Portland with tickets.

SALE OF THE DENNISON HOUSE FURNITURE.—An important sale is advertised by Mr. A. B. Richardson, for Monday next, to compose of all the furniture, bedding, etc., lately in use at the Dennison House, in this city. The lot is a very fine one, and about as good as new.

THE WEATHER.—Since the heavy rains the weather has become very pleasant. The mud dried sufficiently yesterday to make good walking and riding, and the clear atmosphere is a fresh temptation for exercise on horseback.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the Circuit Court yesterday, motion for a new trial in the case of Swift vs. Stark, was over-ruled. The case of Shute vs. Bigham was argued, and submitted to the jury.

SET FOR TRIAL.—The case of the State vs. Charles and Lucy E. Burkhart, for cruel and ill treatment of the child Flora Steele, is set for trial in the Circuit Court to-day.

QUARTZ ATTRACTIONS.—The warm weather yesterday, together with the new quartz attractions from Santiam, on exhibition at Tracy & King's cabinet, had a tendency to create quite a feverish state of excitement on the usually quiet street corners of our city. The tendency seemed to be upward with everything susceptible of inflation, and the very clouds appeared to rise high enough to pass over the Cascade range, and speed away to Owyhee with the intelligence. Sober people were candid, and Loakilitems was confused, at the ten thousand different specimens, from all quarters, offered for inspection. Half mankind seemed to be on the hunt for gold—nothing short of the glittering, yellow oro would satisfy the longing. This mania, which now pervades society to an alarming extent, will be the means of casting aside many a substantial blessing, in anticipation of some shadowy hope which never will, because it never can, be realized. We are all on a grand Chevy Chase hunt for something, but we should all feel satisfied with a fair amount of game—some of us with less. Otherwise, aside from disaster, the hunt is very likely to terminate unsuccessful, especially that for a golden prize; for, do not riches have wings?

THE INDIANS.—On one or two occasions we have referred to the nuisance of straggling Indians who infest the city limits, and in the report of the Grand Jury published in yesterday's issue, Indian Superintendents and Agents are censured for permitting these Indians to roam at large. In justice to the Superintendents and Agents of the Oregon Superintendency, we will state that the Indians who are now in this vicinity, do not belong to any of their reservations, and the censure of the Grand Jury does not apply to them. They have shown a commendable zeal in collecting the Indians belonging to Oregon reservations, when applied to by the city authorities. The Superintendent has requested that all Indians belonging to the Oregon reservations found within the city limits be arrested, and the city Marshal has been instructed to lodge all such in jail, and confine them until they can be removed to the reservations.

A MONSTER COUGAR.—The heaviest animal of this species, which has been seen hereabouts within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, was killed on Saturday evening last, about 13 miles below Portland, by N. Wellington and Anthony Cline. The brute had for several days committed depredations among the young cattle, when a large party turned out in a search which proved fruitless, and all but the two above named relinquished it. Accompanied by four dogs, they met and killed him, giving him three fatal shots, and were then obliged to expedite his demise with a fourth, in order to save the dogs from being destroyed in his dying struggles. The body was brought to the city yesterday, and purchased by Jacob Mayer, of the City of Paris store, who will place him on exhibition to-day at the southeast corner of Morrison and First streets, the proceeds to go to the Sanitary Commission. When killed the animal weighed 200 lbs. and measured [illegible] feet, extreme length.

A BLOCKADE.—It not unfrequently happens that some farmer, ignorant of the effect it has upon a community like this, will leave his team standing square over a cross walk, to the great inconvenience of pedestrians. Yesterday, however, we observed the most effectual blockade we remember to have ever seen on these streets, which consisted of a string of six yoke of cattle, and a prairie schooner, across the intersection of Taylor with First sts. It was a big nuisance.

THE SPELL BROKEN.—As if to make up for lost time, the docket of Recorder McCoy shows an active beginning for the present week. Five fights and drunks were disposed of yesterday, and John Doe and Richard Roe may thank their stars that the respectability of other names, in the day's proceedings, prevents them from being seen in the records.

GRAND R. A. CHAPTER ELECTION.—At the meeting of the M. E. Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Oregon, held at the Masonic Hall last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year:

J. C. Ainsworth, G. H. P.; C. H. Lewis, D. G. H. P.; [illegible], G. K.; A. Holbrook, G. S.; John H. Couch, [illegible]; [illegible] Goodwin, G. Sec.; D. Rutledge, G. C.; W. H. [illegible], G. C. H.; E. W. Wilson, G. P. S.; Jacob Conser, G. R. A. C.

NUMBER 3's ENGINE HOUSE.—Arrangements were completed yesterday, and the contract let to Mr. E. M. Burton, for the construction of a new Engine House for Columbian Engine Company No. 3. The building is to be of brick, two stories high, and to cost, by the appropriation $6,000. The work will be commenced by the 15th of July, and the building completed by the last of October.

ACCOUNTED FOR.—The human remains discovered near the steamer landing in Vancouver on Friday morning of last week, are supposed to have been the remains of a body deposited there very many years ago—perhaps an Indian—and were now exposed by having the earth washed away by the action of the water.

HONOLULU COMMISSION MERCHANTS.—Bolles & Co., Commission Merchants of Honolulu, whose card appears in to-day's issue, we are assured are an old and highly respectable firm. Ten years experience in the Islands, in active mercantile transactions, makes it an object with our exporters to consign to them.

PASSENGERS.—There were about seventy passengers arrived by the steamer from the Dalles last evening. After diligent inquiry with regard to the condition of their finances we ascertained they had all been able to make the connection through to Portland with tickets.

SALE OF THE DENNISON HOUSE FURNITURE.—An important sale is advertised by Mr. A. B. Richardson, for Monday next, to compose of all the furniture, bedding, etc., lately in use at the Dennison House, in this city. The lot is a very fine one, and about as good as new.

THE WEATHER.—Since the heavy rains the weather has become very pleasant. The mud dried sufficiently yesterday to make good walking and riding, and the clear atmosphere was a fresh temptation for exercise on horseback.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the Circuit Court yesterday, motion for a new trial in the case of Swift vs. Stark, was over-ruled. The case of State vs. Bigham was argued, and submitted to the jury.

SET FOR TRIAL.—The case of the State vs. Charles and Lucy E. Burkhart, for cruel and ill treatment of the child Flora Steele, is set for trial in the Circuit Court to-day.

THE CHINESE.—By every steamer we receive a new influx of Chinese, and the question naturally arises: What is to be done with them? And this question is becoming more serious every day. They have neither lot, part or affiliation with us. Their only object of immigration is to get together what gold they can collect from the soil or pockets of outside barbarians, and then return to the land of their fathers to chuckle over the stupidity of the "Yanghees" who permitted them to obtain it. They are an intolerable nuisance, an incubus upon our prosperity, a curse to our white laborers of every description. They are neither producers nor consumers—they ship everything to China, and import many articles of food from there for their sustenance. Their brokerage, factorage, and merchandising is mainly carried on by Chinese. Their habits are filthy, demoralizing, and corrupt—they are a nation of thieves, without moral impulse, honest purpose, or mental intelligence—except a species of low cunning, which always leads to their own advantage and injury of the white citizen. Their haunts are low and degrading, and in this city have long went unnoticed. As a class, the Chinese stand in the way and take the place of those who would otherwise become useful and valuable citizens, and while all acknowledge the evil of the flood of Celestials pouring in upon us, who can propose a remedy for it?

Dodge and Hayward are at Salem to-night.

GRAND LODGE, OREGON.—The M. W. Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons for the State of Oregon, will meet at 9 o'clock, this (Tuesday) morning. A punctual attendance is requested. Work in the E. A. degree this evening.

All members of the Order, in good standing, are invited to be present. By order, M. W. G. M.

It is hard to believe that in the heart of an acorn is encased the germ of a ship which shall baffle the storms of fifty years; but no harder than to believe that in all men lodges the germ of an angel.

Complaints of Children.—In the case of fast-growing and scrofulous children, predisposed to curvatures and other deformities, it is often disagreeable to give a tonic without stimulants, and an alterative without irritation. For such, it would be impossible to select a preparation combining so many of the above advantages as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Coughs and Colds—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket, and taken as occasion requires.

In every age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system, is acknowledged by all.

Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue, and take no other. Sold everywhere.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap28d1m my25:tf WELLS, FARGO & CO.

CHECKS ON SAN FRANCISCO

AT PAR!

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept 16, 1864.

" * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me.

C. A. FLAUTE."

SOUTH WARSAW, O., July 28, 1863.

" * * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET, }
NEW YORK, August 2, 1863. }

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness, and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well. * * * Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

" * * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

" * * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

" * * * I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y.

" * * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

" * * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

" * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business. H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

" * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y.

etc. etc. etc. etc. etc.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c. all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and imposter. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

Earth Eating Indians.—On the banks of the Orinoco is a small village, picturesquely situated at the foot of a rock named La Concepcion de Urana. The tribe inhabiting it is called Otomac. These singular people use for food a soft, unctuous earth, resembling the potter's clay and containing a small proportion of oxide of iron. The good people are very dainty in their taste, not being by any means satisfied with every sort of clay, but distinguish the taste of one from that of another. The banks of the Orinoco are carefully searched, and the selection of their favorite luxury is made with great caution. The clay is kneaded into balls from five to six inches in diameter, and these are roasted by a slow fire, until they have become of a reddish tint. When required for eating, they are remoistened. Pyramidal heaps of these clay balls are stored up in the huts of the Otomacs for food during the rainy season. At other times they vary their repast with river tortoises and fish, which they kill very dexterously with arrows when near the surface of the water. This propensity for earth-eating appears to exist in many other parts of the torrid zone, even where the ground is fertile, and cultivation would be easy, but for the indolence of the inhabitants.

A Judge's Charge.—Judge Jonas Jones recently delivered the following charge to the Jury, in the case of Elim Crunch for stealing. "Jury, you kin go out, and don't show your ugly mugs here till you find a verdict—if you can't find one of your own, git the one the last jury used." The jury retired, and after an absence of fifteen minutes, returned with a verdict of "Suicide in the ninth degree and fourth verse." Then Judge Jonas Jones pronounced on Elim Crunch this sentence: "Elim Crunch, stand up, and face the music. You are found guilty of suicide for stealing. Now this court do sentence you to pay a fine of five shillings, to shave your head with a baggonet, in the barracks, and if you try to cave in the heads of any of the jury, you'll catch thunder, that's all. Your fate will be a warning to other's, and in conclusion, may the Lord have mercy on your soul. Sheriff, get me a pint of red eye."

One of the business men of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been attacked with the prevailing epidemic, and whose thoughts are always running on Lake Superior copper, silver, lead, and Colorado gold-lodes, veins and nuggets, was at church last Sunday, and wearied out by the excitement of the week, had fallen asleep in his seat, just as the minister began to read in a loud voice the lesson of Scripture which happened to be the 28th chapter of Job—"Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they fine it." Jumping to his feet in great excitement, the merchant stretched his arm and shook his [illegible] to the astonished minister exclaiming—"I'll take five hundred shares!"

A Scotchman in Africa, after his first bottle of brandy, used to take another in his pocket, put on a pair of enormous boots, and walk about in the jungle till he had finished the bottle, then he would lie down wherever he happened to be, and go peaceably to sleep. One morning he did not return as usual. His people went into the wood to look for him. To their horror they found that a swarm of drivers (a kind of ant) had fallen in with him. Even his boots had been eaten up, [illegible] and cleanpicked skeleton with a few scattered boot nails alone were left to tell the tale!

One of the multitude of young men in the army who have advertised for "an agreeable, tender correspondent to while away the ennui of camp life" received a reply some time since from a New Bedford lady. The correspondence resulting, proved very agreeable to both parties, and in due time they entered into a marriage engagement. At length the soldier obtained a furlough, and immediately proceeded to New Bedford to be united to the idol of his affections. He called at her address, and to his horror discovered that the fair one was of cream colored complexion, with kinky hair!! Miscegenation went against his stomach, and he returned to the army in disgust.

Father O'Leary and Curran were cracking their jests at a dinner party, one evening, as was their wont, when the celebrated advocate turned abruptly to the good father, saying—"I wish, O'Leary, that you had the keys of Heaven." "Why, Curran?" asked the divine. "Because you would then let me in," said the facetious counsellor. "It would be much better for you, Curran," said Father O'Leary, "that I had the keys of the other place, because I could then let you out!"

A young lady, in a class studying physiology, made answer to a question put, that in six years a human body became entirely changed so that not a particle which was in it at the commencement of the period would remain at the close of it.

"Then, Miss L.," said the young tutor, "in six years you will cease to be Miss L?"

"Why, yes, sir, I suppose so," said she, very modestly looking at the floor.

A Pundit in Benares, India, has been dining with a wealthy European goldsmith of that place, and this unpardonable offense against the laws of his caste had been visited with punishment which consisted in fasting for eight days, repeated a sacred text 100,000 times, walking 50 in five days barefooted, and "cleansing his mouth by filling it with cow dung."

That was a mean Dutchman, that Hans Kurg. He had one beautiful Madonna looking daughter, who no more resembled him than a flower the root. "Hans, how on earth do you manage to keep your potatoes from freezing?" asked a neighbor, one morning. "Fy, I makes Caroline shleep on the potatoes," answered Hans, "dat keeps dem from freezin'!"

"You say," said the judge, "the squire who married you to the first wife authorized you to take sixteen?" "What do you mean by that?" "Well," said Hans, "he dold me dat I should have four petter four verser, four richer, and four boorer—and in our country four dimes four make sixteen."

The Sultan has appointed two Christians members of the Grand Council and others have been promoted to high official positions. This liberal tendency on his part is a mark of progress in Turkey.

Thirst Quenched without Drinking.—Water, even salt water, imbibed through the skin, appeases thirst almost as well as fresh water taken inwardly. In a Narrative of Capt Kennedy's losing his vessel and his distresses afterwards, the captain says:—"I cannot conclude without making mention of the great advantage I received from soaking my clothes twice a day in salt water and putting them on without wringing. To this discovery I may with justice attribute the preservation of my own life and the lives of six other persons, who must have perished if it had not been put in use. The water absorbed through the pores of the skin produced in every respect the same effect as would have resulted from the moderate drinking of any liquid. The saline particles however which remained in our clothes becoming encrusted with the heat of the sun and that of our bodies lacerated our skins, and were otherwise inconvenient, but we found by washing out these particles and frequently wetting our clothes without wringing, twice in the course of a day, the skin became well in a short time. After these operations, we uniformly found that the drought went off and the parched tongue was cured in a few minutes, after bathing and washing our clothes, and, at the same time, we found ourselves as much refreshed as if we had received some actual nourishment. Four persons in the boat, who drank salt water, went delirious and died, but those who avoided this and followed the above practice experienced no such symptoms."

A man calling himself a Russian nobleman, but who was pronounced by the detective police to be French chevalier d'industrie or pickpocket, was on the point of marrying the daughter of a wealthy "shoddycrat," in New York, when his promising scheme was cut short by the treason of an accomplice who had become enraged against him. The knave had played his game deftly with the ignorant would be-fashionable family which he was about to "honor" with his alliance. Among other things, he had presented them with a handsome picture of a fine baronial residence in Germany, which he assured them was a painting of his palace and grounds in Russia, where they were all to go and "enjoy the splendid life which only the Russian nobility know how to live," &c., &c.

The other day at Johnstown, Pa., as a mason was engaged in cutting stone, a living frog was found in the centre of a stone that had been in use in a well for over thirty years. When discovered he was as flat as a pancake, but after being released from his prison, could hop about as well as any other frog. The Cambria papers think that his frogship could he speak, would tell us about the times when Noah lived. His only defect is that he is totally blind. He has been placed in a cage for safe-keeping.

A hungry countryman was exploring one of the streets in this city for a dinner, when his ears were saluted by a shrill voice from an eating house, which uttered in rapid tones the following incomprehensible jargon—"Biledlamancapersore—rosebeefrosegoose—rosemuttonantaters—Biledmuttoncbbagenvegetables—Walkinsirtakeaseatsir." The astonished man hastened his pace in order to find a house where they spoke English.

An Irishman's Description of America.—An Irishman, in describing America, said "I am told that you might roll England through it, an' it wouldn't make a dint in the ground; there's fresh water oceans inside that she might droun Ould Ireland in; and as for Scotland, ye might stick it in a corner, and ye'd niver be able to find it out, except it might be by the smell o' whisky."

"What is polygamy?" asked Ike, who stumbled over the word in the paper.

Mrs Partington looked severe. "Polygamy," said she, "is where men have an [illegible] libertine privilege of marrying a pleurisy of wives, when they can't take care of one as she out to be, with cotton flannel half a dollar a yard and flour at fabulous prices."

A subscriber to the Ledger called at our office a few days since, who said he had just come through from St. Paul, Minnesota, a distance of fourteen hundred miles, in two days and twenty two hours, which would make an average of just twenty miles an hour from the beginning to the end of the trip.—N. Y. Ledger.

The president of a bank in Pennsylvania was lately detected in purloining what little gold the vaults of the institution contained. It seems that the chance to sell it on "private account," at 179—the rate at which gold was then selling—was too much for the bank president's discretion, to say nothing of his honesty.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medical effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron without further oxidation has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M.D.,

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM, and to have great control over
SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation it remained almost useless until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York after years of patient labor and experiment discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This considered impossible by the scientific world is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr J. R. Chilton of this city and Prof. Booth U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see American Medical Monthly, July 6, 1858, page 6.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh strength and color—hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility from whatever cause arising, may be cured, strength in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.
